

randstad IT solutions

creating and refining your distributed agile teams.

Build and improve your software development teams and provide them with the tools and knowledge to deliver excellent products. Distributed teams are key.

build your next incredible team

Randstad IT Solutions takes Randstad's core recruitment services to another level; we not only find great talent, we build excellent teams with you. Need a team to tackle your next project? Looking to take your current team to new heights? We're here to help.

build for remote work and business continuity

Onboarding a new member is challenging, but onboarding an entire team is on a whole other level. With dedicated and experienced leadership, we can help you set up tools, processes and practices that ensure your team delivers maximum value and reaches productivity quickly.

fully agile and customizable

We look beyond buzzwords, building teams that are backed by a core of industry experts in fields like agile coaching, cloud technologies, project management, software development and DevOps. We focus on helping them grow, becoming better and faster, so you can quickly achieve your objectives. By working closely with you to build a team, we ensure that your vision and goals are fulfilled with the best team for your needs.

powerful practices and tools: remote and on the go

At Randstad IT Solutions, we have the skills, network and expertise to help any team raise the bar in their usage of tools, technology and development practices. With a team constantly on the lookout for changes and improvements in technology, recruiting and management, you can get a headstart like no other. We help you fully leverage cloud tools to limit your dependencies on hardware or a single provider. Get the best setup for your team with a turn-key approach or build a customized version aligned with your specific technologies and practices.

the four pillars of coaching and building proposition communication

Access the communication tools you need and follow best practices.

- Set up a communication structure, adjustable for remote work (ex: communication tools like Slack, video calls, team task management, etc.)
- Implement the full scrum methodology and iterative development and demos. This leads to maximum transparency and flexibility (ex: frequent review and demos, objective-based roadmap to maximize autonomy, prototyping to better manage risks, etc.)
- We can help with full set up of basic communication and collaboration tools (ex: emails, calendar, collaborative files, etc.)

development environment

Set up a development environment to maximize team ownership, integration and value delivery frequency.

- Cloud-based code repository and version control for maximum flexibility, security, scalability and availability
- Integration with your existing environment

equipment

Equipez rapidement et efficacement vos équipes.

- Randstad IT Solutions can help you acquire and coordinate physical tools such as computers, mobile phones, peripherals and testing devices.

skills

Once you build an amazing team, keep improving their skills and knowledge base.

- Keep an eye on new technologies and expertise
- Knowledge transfer and coaching by Randstad IT Solutions team
